

UKRAINE IS A BATTLE-HARDENED

OUTPOST OF THE EUROPEAN SECURITY

ARMS AND SECURITY

XVIII INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION

September 27–30, 2022 | Ukraine, Kyiv

Arms and Security was launched by the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine

Exhibition is held according to Decree of the Cabinet of Ministers of Ukraine

Oleg Uruskyi - Deputy Prime Minister of Ukraine, Minister for Strategic Industries of Ukraine

The thirtieth anniversary of Ukraine's Independence is marked by such important events as the exhibitions Arms and Security and Aviasvit-XXI. These exhibitions will undoubtedly contribute to the deepening of international military-technical cooperation and promotion of Ukrainian products in foreign markets.

Andrii Taran - Minister of Defense of Ukraine

Such exhibitions give us, the Ministry of Defense, an opportunity to assess the accomplishments of our defense industry and compare them to the products offered by foreign companies. We have stated that we aspire to join NATO and that is why we compare everything that Ukrainian manufacturers offer to us to the standards of the Alliance. In my opinion, that is why such exhibitions give us an opportunity to compare products and make the best choice for the Armed Forces of Ukraine from what is offered on the market of armaments and military equipment.

Anton Herashchenko - Deputy Minister of Internal Affairs of Ukraine

We need to rely on ourselves both in the manufacturing of weapons and in the defense of our country. Therefore, the state of Ukraine will support all manufacturers – both state-owned and private – in the development of armaments. It is very important for us to hold such exhibitions as Arms and Security – it gives an opportunity for our companies to share experience and find new partners in Ukraine and abroad.

WHY

UKRAINE

Annual increase in the budget for defense and security

Ukraine ranked 34th in the world ranking of countries in terms of military expenditures in 2020, rising by 9 positions in 3 years (in 2017, Ukraine was ranked 43rd).

For five years of Anti-Terrorist Operation / Joint Forces Operation (2014-2019) the size of the Armed Forces has increased by 75%

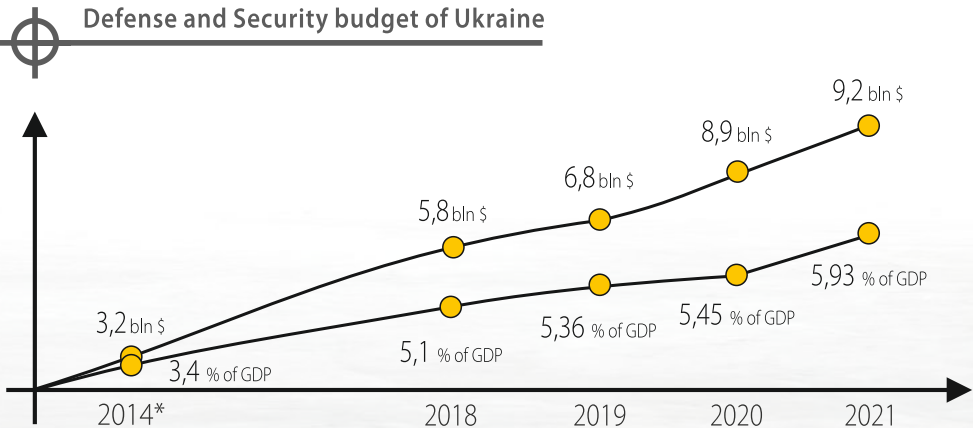

Before the war in Eastern Ukraine, Ukrainian Army numbered about 140,000 people, while now the Armed Forces number 250,000 people

In 2020, Ukrainian Army was 25th in the annual ranking of 140 armies in the world, which was compiled by the international company Global Firepower. This is 4 positions higher than in 2018

In terms of the number of reservists, Ukraine is in the top 10 on the planet and ahead of the United States (Global Firepower Index 2018)
