12.	Taipei Computer Association (TCA)	The Taipei Computer Association (TCA), established in 1974, is a leading industrial organization in Taiwan. Its 4,000 members are engaged in various fields within the Information and Communication Technology (ICT) industry, including software, hardware, semiconductors and components, manufacturing, sales, and network communication services. Together, they generate over 80% of Taiwan's total ICT industry output. TCA has offices in Taipei, Taichung, and Kaohsiung, along with overseas offices in China, Japan, and India. TCA continuously seeks new opportunities to promote ICT industry development, serving as a bridge and international interface among the government, academia, and the public. As a professional organization, TCA offers a range of services, including international/domestic trade events, skills training, information sharing, and business networking activities. Key trade events like the Taipei Game Show, Smart City Summit &amp; Expo, COMPUTEX Taipei, InnoVEX, IT Month, and Taiwan Education Technology provide major thematic platforms for international enterprises: https://en.smartcity.org.tw/index.php/en-us/ https://www.tca.org.tw/en/
